DOINGS AT PLAINVILLE

GRAND ARMY DAY—ONE HUNDRED OLD FETS WERE THERE.

Grounds Splendidly Decorated—A Grand Patriotic Occasion—A Historic Flag—Temperance Day To-Day—The Program of Exercises—Addresses by Prominent Persons.

Plainville Camp Ground, Aug. 6.—Patriotic speeches and songs, red, white and blue bunting, grand illuminations and camp fire speeches were the order of the day on the Plainville camp grounds yesterday. Over 100 old soldiers were present. Early in the morning the people had decorated their houses and tents with red, white and blue bunting and stretched flags across the avenues and streets. The whole encampment was a grand spectacle. The bright colors against the dark background of foliage showed up with wonderful effect.

The most central and beautiful object was the preacher's stand. The pillars were completely encircled in bunting, which ran around the edge of the canopy roof and was over the peak in front. Stretching across the front from side to side was a historic flag. This flag was made by Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Smith of Simsbury. Mr. and Mrs. Smith had two sons in the service, and just before the assassination of Lincoln they made this flag which was put at half mast on that occasion for the first time.

In the morning occurred the flag presentation, and in the afternoon the Rev. H. E. Wing of Ansonia delivered the oration and a Grand Army camp fire was held at 8 o'clock in the evening.

At 10 a. m. the chorus choir gave a song service of patriotic pieces at the stand for half an hour, which was greatly enjoyed by the many G. A. R. men present and the audience. The singing was most enthusiastic and inspiring, and these words rang with the old war songs, "Marching Through Georgia," etc.

Presiding Officer North made an excellent presentation address, which was frequently interrupted with applause and the Chairman's salute. In the course of his remarks he gave an interesting history of the stars and stripes, and also explained the movement which had secured the beautiful flag which it was his privilege to present to the association at that time.

At the close of the presentation address the audience arose and sang with the waving of handkerchiefs, "America."

The Rev. Dr. E. L. Thorpe spoke briefly in accepting the flag. To illustrate the love for the old flag, he spoke of his feelings in beholding for the first time after leaving his native shore the beautiful stars and stripes at the consul's office in Rome on the Fourth of July. The doctor spoke most happily of the flagpole which has been erected upon one of the tallest trees in the grove. His thought was that unlike other flagpoles which are erected in a few hours, our pole has been in the process of erection for the past thirty years, and that it is now ready for the flag.

After the services at the stand the flag raising exercises were held about the pole. The Grand Army men were collected in the center of the large number of people present, and several patriotic pieces were sung, in which the old veterans joined heartily. About 12:30 the Rev. Dr. E. L. Thorpe started to raise the flag. In order to pass up through the trees it was tied up in a bundle, which broke after it had reached the opening.

In the afternoon the Rev. H. E. Wing of Ansonia delivered the address. It was an excellent setting forth of the true cause of the civil war, and was listened to with interest by a large number of Grand Army men.

At 8 o'clock in the evening a Grand Army fire was conducted by the Rev. Dr. E. L. Thorpe. It was a most enthusiastic meeting. Many personal anecdotes were told and Grand Army songs sung. The Rev. H. E. Wing of Ansonia, Twenty-seventh Connecticut; Captain Sull of Bristol, One Hundred and Forty-sixth New York; Lieutenant C. A. Reynolds of Forestville, Second Connecticut artillery; N. A. Fullerton of New Haven, First Connecticut artillery; S. M. Sheldon of Forestville, First Connecticut, Company B; George B. Graves of Forestville, South Atlantic squadron; Edwin Sanford of Meriden, Second Connecticut artillery, all took part in the camp fire, which lasted until 10:30. It was a grand good time.

The grounds, which had been decorated with bunting and flags all day, were beautifully illuminated.
TEMPERANCE DAY TO-DAY.
To-morrow will be Temperance day with the following program: 10:30, opening exercises; 10:45, address, "The Legislation of 1895," Rev. J. S. James, D. D.; 11:15, address, "Law Enforcement under new Conditions," S. P. Thrasher, secretary of the Law and Order League of Connecticut; 2 p. m., address, "Scientific and Business Phases of the Drink Question," Rev. Prof. J. J. McCook; 2:45, address, "What are the Schools Doing for Temperance?" Mrs. C. B. Forbes, president State W. C. T. U.; 3:15, address, "The Outlook," Rev. W. J. White; 7:30, lecture with stereopticon, "Factors of the Drink Problem," Rev. J. H. James, secretary C. T. U.

SESSION OF STATE CAMP.

P. O. S. of A. Annual Session Held Yesterday—Reports Show the Order to Be Prosperous—Officers Elected.

The sixth annual session of the state camp of the Patriotic Sons of America was begun in Mechanics' hall on Chapel street yesterday morning. The meeting was called to order by State President W. E. Morgan, who delivered an able address on the purpose and aim of the order. This was followed by the address and reports of State Secretary W. S. Wadham, and State Treasurer C. W. Rowe. The treasurer reported that the financial portion of the order is in splendid condition. There were fifty-three delegates and past officers present. There are four camps in the state, with a total membership of 400, an increase of one camp during the year. Three of the camps are in this city. The new one was established in New Britain.

At the afternoon session several proposed changes in the constitution were discussed, but no important changes were made. In the evening state officers were elected as follows:

GRACE M. E. CHURCH

11th Excursion Postponed.

Owing to the accident to the steamer Isabel the excursion of the Grace M. E. church Sunday school to Roton Point will be postponed for the present. While the committee regret the disappointment that this postponement will cause among the children, they yet feel that in consideration of the great sorrow through which the family of our Sunday school superintendent is now passing, the excursion should be postponed. So the excursion will not take place on Thursday, as announced, but will some time in the future, of which due notice will be given.

The district convention of the Order of Chosen Friends was held in Elks' hall yesterday morning. Twenty-one councils were present. Captain P. H. O'Brien of this city and W. H. Wersley of Waterbury were elected delegates to the national convention to be held in Cleveland, O.
